

Flags to Remain at Half-Staff in Honor of Sen. Inouye

President Obama Tuesday ordered American flags at all U.S. government buildings and facilities remain at half-staff in memory of Senator Daniel K. Inouye, President pro tempore of the United States Senate, until the date of his interment. In concurrence with the President's order Gov. Markell has ordered the American and Delaware flags at state buildings facilities also be flown at half-staff until such date.
